Change is on the Ballot in 2022

The Democratic Party of the Northern Mariana Islands invites supporters to join incumbents and new candidates on Friday, August 5, 2022, beginning at 3:30 p.m., as they submit their nominating petitions at the Commonwealth Election Commission. After all the petitions have been submitted, the Party will host a celebratory wave across the street.

Rep. Christina “Tina” Marie E. Sablan, the Democratic Party’s candidate for Governor, notes that, “The 2022 election is a critical one, and voters will have important decisions to make. Voters will be able to choose between good governance and the status quo. They will be able to choose between candidates who have demonstrated their commitment to fairness and honesty in government, fiscal responsibility, and the well-being and empowerment of the people—and candidates who have abused the people's trust through acts of corruption or complacency.”

“Leila and I, together with our U.S. Congressman Gregorio Kilili Sablan, and our fellow Democrats on the ballot, are committed to leading our commonwealth to good governance and a healthier, safer, more just, and more beautiful future for all. We call on every eligible citizen of the commonwealth to be sure to register to vote, get your friends and family to register, too, and vote Democrats into office on November 8.”

“It is an exciting time to be a voter in the CNMI,” asserts Rep. Leila Haveia Fleming C. Staffler, the Democratic Party’s candidate for Lieutenant Governor. “This election will be pivotal for the long-term trajectory of the Marianas. Since its ratification in June of 1976, our Marianas Covenant, named after the rainbow that appeared at the end of the Noah’s Ark story—when the rains stopped after 40 days and nights—this rainbow and our covenant symbolize the hope of a greater tomorrow for the people. Tina and I are dedicated to the long-term vision set forth by our founders. One that provides equitable opportunity for all. One that prioritizes the economic drivers of healthcare and education for our people.”
